

Golden Gloves Tournament

TO BE HELD AT SCHOOL GYM IN JANUARY

Under sponsorship of the Rube Babbitt Chapter of the Izaak Walton League, a Golden Gloves tournament will be held in the Grayling High School gymnasium on the nights of January 18, 19, 20, 25th and 26th. This will be a big event for Grayling and plans now are to hold this tournament at Grayling as an annual affair.

Tentative plans at this writing call for a CCC tournament, in which eight camps are being entered. In addition thirty-five northern communities have been extended an invitation to enter contestants and a Northern Michigan Community tournament will be held. The winners of the CCC tournament will fight the winners of the community tournament to determine who will represent the Izaak Walton Chapter at Bay City in the semifinals and finals, which will be run on Jan. 31st, Feb. 3rd, 7th, and 8th. Winners at Bay City will be sent to the State finals at Grand Rapids Feb. 20th, as guests of the Bay City Times, and winners at Grand Rapids will be sent to Chicago, Feb. 28th, for the Tournament of Champions, as guests of the Grand Rapids Press.

All contestants will be amateurs and will fight in two classes, namely novice and open. The novice class constitutes an amateur who has never won more than one fight in amateur competition and the open class is anyone who has won more than one fight in amateur competition. Each class is then divided in eight classes, starting with flyweights at 112 pounds and ending with heavyweights from 175 pounds up. The local sponsors will present the winners with gold and silver emblems at the close of the tournament.

Grayling is indeed fortunate in being able to make a hook-up with the Golden Gloves Tournament, and the arrangements were made by R. A. Wright. Last Sunday a local committee consisting of R. A. Wright, Harley Russell, Emil Giegling, Farnham Matson, Jack Redhead, and Capt. Austin representing the CCC organization, met with the Michigan A. A. U. officials at the Wenonah Hotel at Bay City, at which time final details were arranged for the tournament. The local tournament committee having Harley Russell as its chairman, have started work on the tournament which promises to be one of the greatest events ever staged in Northern Michigan. Too much credit cannot be given our local Izaak Walton Chapter and its officers for securing this tournament.

Kiddies, Are You Ready For Santa?

Grayling's big community Christmas treat will take place tomorrow (Friday) when all children of Roscommon and Crawford counties will be guests of Grayling's business men. Mayor George Burke is the big gun, having as usual contracted with George Olson for a talkie, and other local business men for the sweets, that each youngster will get.

The title of the talkie is "Guns of the Pecos" starring Dick Foran. There is to be a comedy "Blonde Bomber," a novelty cartoon and Bedtime vaudeville. The first show for those from out of town will start at 1:30 and the second show, which is for those kiddies residing in Grayling will be at 4:00 o'clock.

Santa Claus will be on hand to greet all.

CANDLE LIGHT SERVICE DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Just at the twilight hour, with only the soft light from the candles gleaming at the Michelson Memorial church, a large crowd gathered Sunday evening to hear the cantata given by the senior and junior choirs under the direction of Mrs. C. G. Clipper, with Mrs. Karl Millar at the organ and Miss Betty Parsons and Jean Peterson playing violins.

From the procession, through the cantata to the recessional, the hour and a half of music held the audience in rapt attention. The junior choir, in red robes, led the procession carrying either lighted candles or hymnals, followed by the senior choir in black cassocks, all singing "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." On the program were anthems, solos, quartettes, and duets, all together depicting the story of the birth of Christ. It was a beautiful service and a most satisfying way of starting off the Christmas week.

This was the third annual cantata given by the two choirs of the church and those attending were high in their praises for the fine quality of entertainment given to the public.

Mercy Hospital Held Open House

Close to two hundred people visited Mercy Hospital last Sunday, that entire day having been set aside for open house. The past year has been indicative of the continued effort and strife in maintaining the high standards and quality of this enterprise.

Year after year the management and friends of the hospital have achieved new desires, until today Grayling citizens are most fortunate in having the finest hospital in Northern Michigan.

In the past year both the outside and inside have been redecorated, a new fire-proof roof has been added, and floor covering for all three floors has been laid. New additions such as a complete children's department, nursery, and delivery room have been realized; and new equipment including an adult oxygen apparatus, and a modern baby incubator are installed. At present plans are being made for the new fire escape, which has already been received ready to be installed.

Mercy Hospital is known all around the state and brings some of the finest compliments to be paid to our city.

One of the special attractions during the "Open House" was a visit to the new nursery department. The beds and furniture, all in "Perry Winkle" blue, and the very latest design for hospital use, make this one of the most beautiful rooms in the hospital. Joining that room and a part of the nursery equipment, is the dressing and attending room, with its cozy-bath and electrically warmed dressing table.

In the room were all kinds of toys and books for infants and children. This very fine addition to the hospital is a gift from E. J. Marshall of Toledo.

The many who visited the hospital on "Open House" day were well repaid for their interest.

SPECIAL

Long Distance

TELEPHONE RATES

For . . .

THE HOLIDAY WEEK ENDS

Knowing the pleasure there is in actually talking with friends in other places, we are happy to help make possible special Long Distance rates for both of the approaching holiday weeks.

Low Long Distance rates that apply every night after 7 o'clock and all day Sunday will be in effect from 7 P. M. Christmas Eve until 4:30 A. M. December 27, and again from 7 P. M. New Year's Eve until 4:30 A. M. January 2.

If you have friends in other cities we urge that you have a voice visit with them. You will fully enjoy it, and so will they.

TRI-COUNTY TELEPHONE COMPANY

Boys And Girls To Enjoy Winter Park

Grayling Winter Sports Association wants all the boys and girls in this county to enjoy the winter park. We would like to see every family have a season ticket but we know that there are some who cannot afford to purchase one. During such times as the snow train passengers are not here, no boy or girl will be refused admission to the park because he or she has no ticket. However, due to the crowded condition of the park when the snow trains are here, only those having season tickets or who purchase tickets at the park will be admitted.

In return we expect and shall insist that all rules of the park be faithfully observed and that no damage be done. Do not use the rink when the "no skating" sign is up, and when skating please do not cut up the ice by running on skates or by dragging the blades. Do not use the toboggan slides without permission. When the throne is built, do not climb on it. It is for decorative purposes only.

We will have the park open and operating just as often as the weather and our finances allow. If you help us in keeping the park in good condition, we will do our best to allow you to enjoy it.

HANSON CAFE TEAM TO HAVE NEW SUITS

Grayling's Hanson Cafe team will be sporting, through the generosity of local merchants, attractive new black and white suits and jackets. There are eleven complete new outfits for the boys, furnished to them by the following eleven merchants: Hanson Cafe, Orel Leaven, Shoppe-a-gons Inn, Mac & Gidley, A. & P. Tea Co., Spike's Keg-O-Nails, Plaza Grill, A. S. Burrows Market, Better Housekeeping Shoppe, AuSable Dairy, and Hanson Service Station. The names of these stores and merchants will each appear on the back of one jacket, showing their support to the local team.

The team, in their new attire, should look good, and an interesting season is in view.

There's no economy in buying things you don't need just because you don't have to pay cash for them.

RANDOM THOTS

Son (over phone) "Pop, guess who got kicked out of college."

With a Santa Claus on every corner and in nearly every city store, how can a youngster know which is the real Santa?

A woman may not believe all she hears but that doesn't keep her from repeating it.

The local liquor store got in 760 cases of hard liquor Thursday night. We wonder if the Liquor Commission has that kind of an opinion about Grayling drinkers. That's a lot of liquor even for New Year's time.

With the great number of canines running loose in town, Santa will have to step lively Christmas Eve to keep his hide intact.

The new Christmas tree law, while a good one, put quite a dent in the Christmas spirit of those who yearly hiked into the woods in search of their yule tree.

Dr. Rifenberg Dead After Long Illness

WAS WELL KNOWN GAYLORD PHYSICIAN. FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Dr. Floyd G. Rifenberg, well known Gaylord physician, died in Mercy hospital at about 5:00 o'clock p. m. Sunday.

A sudden heart attack occurring Sunday afternoon at Mercy hospital in Grayling, where he had been resting for the past three months, caused death. On that day, Dr. Rifenberg stated that he felt the best he had in some time, and discussed plans for a trip to Florida. Relatives had visited him and left when he was seized with the attack.

Born in Alba, Mich., Aug. 1, 1896, Dr. Rifenberg received his training in the Detroit Medical school, graduating with the class of 1927. He was interne at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital for one year and assistant surgeon at Ford hospital. He practiced in Alba for one year and eight years in Gaylord. He served overseas 23 months during the World War as a pharmacist's mate, second class, in the navy, being stationed at Port Corsini, Italy, and later at Rome.

In 1920 he married Miss Irene Anderson, of Alba. He leaves in addition to his widow, two daughters, Betty and Norma; one son, John; two sisters, Mrs. A. J. MacDougal, of Gaylord, Mrs. L. Phillips, of Alba; two brothers, Clifford, of Detroit, Wayne, of M. S. C.

Dr. Rifenberg was a member of the local post V. F. W., American Legion of Grayling, and F. & A. M. of Mancelona, American Medical association, and the O. M. C. O. R. O. association.

Funeral services were held at the home in Gaylord, Wednesday, and interment was at Alba.

Acting as pallbearers were Dr. Claude R. Keyport and Dr. C. G. Clipper, of Grayling, Dr. Gordon McKillip, and Dr. Richard Peckham, of Gaylord, Dr. H. Harrington, of East Jordan, and Dr. Walter Baumman, of Detroit.

Several members of Grayling Post 108 American Legion were in attendance at the funeral services.

Fewer books on child-raising would be needed if there were more woodsheds and bedroom slippers.

Most wives run everything about the house except errands.

Kiwanis Speaker Talks Of Narcotics

Dr. Harvey A. Waite of Detroit was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon last week Wednesday.

He is at the head of an institute for the cure of the narcotic habit.

Dr. Waite exhibited a tableful of opiates and drugs used by addicts and explained how it was that the drug habit is formed and of the terrible physical condition the habit brings about in the victim. He exhibited photographs of addicts and related how they appeared before being cured.

It might be possible for a man to swear off drinking and then stick to it, but it is physically impossible for a drug addict to cast off the habit, after it has become definitely formed, by his own force of will power and without medical aid, said Dr. Waite.

The narcotic industry is tremendous and in order to be able to sell the drugs there must be users. The speaker related that organized effort is being applied to secure new fields of drug users, and that those fields are not only among the deprived and criminal classes but reach out into the homes of America's finest, and many times, wealthiest families. Educated, cultured and trained young men and women are sent out to mingle with the social world where they are able to sow the seed of drug using habit. Innocent appearing but vicious cigarettes are often times the method employed to gain the intended victim.

An addict, said Dr. Waite, will resort to anything no matter how terrible, in order to obtain the drug he desires. This was one of the most interesting talks to be given before the club during the year.

The meeting this week was devoted to the exchange of Christmas gifts among members. The gifts were later turned over to the firemen for distribution to children of Grayling.

Next week the Kiwanis meeting will be held on Wednesday night instead of the usual Wednesday noon. The evening meeting will include the wives and ladies of the club members. This will be the final meeting of the year when the present officers will retire and the newly elected ones assume charge. This will be a dinner dance and it is expected that every member and his lady will be present.

It's a tough job for a father to convince his son that algebra will be a big help to him in life.

CHRISTMAS AND HOW

WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS WITH CHRISTMAS PARTY

Monday evening the Woman's Club sponsored a very lovely Christmas party with the Camp Fire Girls as guests.

A program of music, songs, games and stunts was given, with all the girls participating.

The dining room where the party was held was decorated very attractively with Christmas greens and reds and a brightly lighted Christmas tree.

Santa Claus arrived at the party rather late, accompanied by "Bill." The two put on a little skit which was very amusing and entertaining.

Following a very delicious lunch the Camp Fire Girls said goodnight to the hostesses for a very pleasant evening.

A HAND TO BACHMAN

That was a heartening statement made last week by Coach Charles Bachman of Michigan State. He was asked if he would leave Michigan State college to become football coach at the University of Michigan to replace Harry Kipke.

Bachman said: "You know two former coaches jumped contracts here and I don't expect to be the third one, even though I have only a year-to-year contract. Kipke jumped his contract here to go to Michigan and Jim Crowley jumped his contract to go to Fordham."

How any man who does not keep his word can be held in high regard as a leader of youth and a builder of character is beyond understanding. What impression did Harry Kipke make on Michigan State students when he jumped his contract to take the university job? He told them in so many words that the smart thing is to ignore pledges and contracts if the price is high enough. What impression did Crowley make when he tore up his contract with Michigan State? Crowley's action plainly said, "Get the cash. Never mind any contract you have signed, any word you have given, unless it is to your own advantage to do so." Should men with such viewpoints be hailed as builders of character? Should they be held up as exemplifying the ideals of undergraduates?

If Charley Bachman's Michigan State football team does not win another game we'll continue to have confidence in the coach. His stand on contract-jumping will offset a string of football defeats. His example of fair dealing is worth more to the student body than national renown as football champions.—Ingham County News, Mason.

Grayling Loses Exciting Game

Gaylord defeated Grayling High School last Friday night by a score of 17 to 19. The game was played in Gaylord. Gaylord also won the second team game by a one-sided score of 28 to 4. These games wind up the high school basketball schedule until after the holidays.

Grayling led most of the way in a game that was close throughout, as games between these two schools are apt to be. It was 7-8 Grayling at the half and 11-10, also Grayling, as the game went into the final eight minutes. It was tough to lose the ball game. However, the dope bucket took an awful kick in the slate when Grayling showed the boys from Otsego county this kind of a ball game. On dope Gaylord should have won by a more decisive margin, instead of just crawling through. The Boyne City powerhouse only edged out a win over Gaylord 15 to 19 recently and Boyne City is figured to be one of the two best teams in the league. The other is Charlevoix, who will play here later on in the schedule.

The Gaylord seconds showed their rivals a run-away race as they went into the second half. They piled up a commanding lead in the third quarter and Grayling had no offense to counter with.

"I Saw the Bear"

(By Nosey)

At least that's what the woman said, when Ted Stephan asked her if she had seen any bear tracks.

This story, however starts way back before Ted even knew this particular bear existed. Hank Davis sort of thought that he had found some brand new bear tracks, but we have to go back even further. I probably won't begin to get the names of every one who participated in this bear hunt, because before we were through hunting him, there must have been at least twenty-five persons on his trail.

The first I knew anything of the bear, he crossed the road mighty close to our cabin, too close, in fact. I have never really thought much about bears. In all the years I have lived up here, I have heard about them being around, and a few years ago Pat Wickes claimed she saw one, but no one could find any tracks, and we all concluded it must have been Grant Shaw's black calf. That being the closest I ever came to a bear up here, I wasn't very much excited until I actually saw the tracks.

I always knew bears grew quite large and roomy, but I had no idea so much of them doubled under and squashed out on the ground, so when I was left alone to watch for the bear, I had the car door open, and nothing between me and the car.

This bear started folks moving around over by Charlie Corwines'; he travelled all night, the ice and water of Wick Swamp didn't bother him; the AuSable river didn't slow him up, he plodded right through them both, and left a big trail behind him for all to follow, and I guess everybody did!

He went through fences, over hills; he travelled to Lovells and on level ground; the hunters claimed he paused a couple of times and fed on dead does he found in the woods (there are always plenty of them after the hunting season opens) and still going strong, and in places running.

He crossed the grade on the north side of the AuSable, so close to a camp that one could easily have reached out with a broom and touched him; he did the same thing up near Lovells.

One would think that bear actually knew where he was going and made a direct line for that place.

The last we know about him, he was in Wildcat Swamp, on Big Creek, northeast of Lovells, and was shot at, slightly wounded, but not enough to bother him.

However, it was after this that we began learning about him. A lady hunter, walking down the old railroad grade, saw the bear! She claims it was as big as a horse. The fellows who shot at it thought it would weigh about eight hundred pounds, but the boys who were trailing the bear guessed it's weight at four hundred.

The lady hunter thought it was her husband at first; maybe that's why she didn't shoot, because she carried a high powered automatic rifle, when she saw the bear she ran towards it, jumped into a truck in a nearby camp, sprained her wrist, and the next morning left for home.

We can't any of us criticize her, because we don't know what we might have done; the only part we might not understand is that the bear looked like her husband. This she explained later.

She had expected her husband down that railroad grade, not the bear! And her husband had not shaved since the opening of deer season, so this mistaken identity may well be excused.

As far as we know, no one got this bear; if any one has heard to the contrary, I for one would be interested in knowing it.

I think Ernie Borchers wanted to shoot that bear awfully bad, and Hank and Ted Stephan got so excited they were talking in whispers. Hank Davis got mad at the bear because he led him such a chase through the swamp, and the only real cool one that I saw was Frank Serven. Myself, I was just hoping Bruin would take the opposite direction for the rest of his hike.

Home Economics Extension Notes

Higgins Lake Group

The Higgins Lake Home Economics Extension group held its second meeting Thursday, December 18 with Mrs. Amos Wiseman, "Color and Home Decoration" was the topic for discussion.

Mrs. Mallinger gave a very comprehensive review of the lesson and presented many fitting illustrations.

She told of various ways color may be used in the home; the emotional effect of various colors; how color creates atmosphere; also four general guides for harmonious combinations.

The next meeting will be January 27 with Mrs. M. W. Richmond, "Rug Making" will be the topic for the day.

In seeking the causes for the United States having three and a half million criminals at large, those who are interested in crime prevention are now scanning the types of reading material which out present day criminals read when they were passing through their adolescent years.

It has been found that a score or so years ago youngsters were permitted to attend motion picture theatres and read books and magazines which not only dealt with murders, wars, cattle rustling, and Indian massacres, but in many instances the plots were based on morbid and depressing subjects.

Even the public schools of twenty or thirty years ago asigned outside reading material which, while although literature, also portrayed violence and morbid conditions.

Among the assigned readings were "The Black Cat" and "Gold Bug" by Poe, "Les Misérables" by Hugo, "Oliver Twist" and "Nicholas Nickleby" by Dickens, "The Deer-slayer," "Spy," and "Last of the Mohicans" by Cooper, "Jwanhoe" by Scott, "Treasure Island" by Stevenson, and "The White God" by Wallace.

Educators and others interested in present day crime prevention are wondering whether the reading material of several decades ago might have indirectly stimulated certain present day criminals, when they were adolescent youths, with a desire to imitate the deeds of daring which their favorite characters performed.

LOCALS

THURSDAY, DEC. 23, 1937

Little Larry McNamara, who has been quite sick and threatened with pneumonia, is much improved.

Today an institute of Recreational supervisors and leaders is being held at the High school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex St. John are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter at Mercy Hospital, Monday. Donna Lee is her name.

William Taylor of Alpena has come to Grayling and accepted a position at Ford Sales & Service, taking the place of Everett Desy.

Little Bobbie Bishaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bishaw, who has been quite sick with bronchial pneumonia, is much better.

Little Betty Ann Canfield, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Canfield, is quarantined at her home with scarlet fever.

There is training in boxing every afternoon after 4:00 o'clock at the school gym carried on by the local recreational leaders. Anyone wishing to take part is invited.

Motorists, please drive carefully on Elm street, as little tots are coasting down Coninne's Hill most every day now. Kiddies should be careful to watch out for cars also.

This office is in receipt of a copy of The Winnipeg Evening Tribune, sent by Leon R. Babbitt from Port Arthur, Ont. Mr. Babbitt is doing some globe trotting at the present time.

Plan to celebrate New Years Eve at Horseshoe Lake. Heck's Harmonizers will play and there will be favors for everyone. There is no cover charge, but you had better make your reservation in advance.

Rev. Fr. James Moloney has gone to Marquette to be gone until after Christmas, owing to his mother being in a critical condition in a hospital there. A priest from Grand Rapids will be here until he returns.

Christmas time affords one a great opportunity to do some boy or girl or family a kindly deed. Look around and then dig down and do the thing your heart tells you to do. It leaves you with such a wonderful feeling.

Harry Shoemaker, of Plymouth, brother-in-law of W. J. Heric and known to many in Grayling, was one of the injured ones in the wreck of the Pere Marquette train at Inkster last Friday. He is employed by the M. C. R. R., but was off duty and on his way home. His injuries however were just minor.

Santa Claus is making a big hit with the kiddies as he saunters up and down Michigan avenue each afternoon. He made his first appearance early Friday afternoon, and when school was out for the day, and youngsters came down town on their way home, he had an enthusiastic crowd of followers.

Mrs. Harold Jernin was hostess to a beautifully appointed Christmas luncheon for her Bridge club Wednesday afternoon. The center of the luncheon table was decorated with lighted motif was blue and silver. Following the luncheon Mrs. Roy Trudeau received the honors for the bridge game, each guest received a gift from the hostess.

Last week Chet Howell of Saginaw, editor of the Chesaning Argus, passed thru Grayling enroute to Cheboygan. With him were his two sons and Frank Pickard Jr., and two other Saginaw lads and one lad from Chesaning. They were to be guests of Editor Al Weber at Cheboygan and together would select and cut their own Christmas trees. This is an annual affair with this group and we'll bet the "Old Architect" and Al had more fun out of it than the kids did, and that's saying a lot.

And what a treat for those six husky youngsters. Most any kid would give a lot to be able to go with his daddy or someone else's daddy on such a trip.

Services at St. Mary's church on Christmas morning will be as follows: Two masses, one at 8:45 o'clock and one at 11:00 o'clock; and there will be a 9:00 o'clock service in Roscommon.

Ernie Borchers of the Grayling Greenhouses was responsible for the lovely decorations at the Church last Sunday for the Cantata. They portrayed a beautiful Christmas spirit and were indicative of a lot of time and effort.

The Tri-County Telephone Co. employees were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Clise Tuesday for their annual Christmas party. The evening was spent playing bunco, for which Mrs. Jack Clark held high score and Mrs. Clise low score. Following, a lunch and Christmas tree were enjoyed, and gifts were exchanged.

Group No. 2 of the Home Economics Extension course met at the home of Mrs. Frank Rood this week. The lesson, which was "Color in the Home," was given by Mrs. Earl Broadbent and Mrs. Middie LaMotte. Following the meeting an attractive lunch was served by Mrs. Rood. Mrs. George Barber and Mrs. George Lowe. The next meeting will be social and will be held at the home of Mrs. William Moshier on January 18th.

Many of Grayling's homes have gone out of their way to put on fancy dress for the holidays. If you make the rounds you will find there are many beautiful decorations. It would be hard to say what home looks the most attractive, there are so many that do. Some have brilliantly lighted trees, wreaths, and sprays over doors that are so inviting to look at. Truly Grayling people have caught the yuletide spirit more than ever. If you haven't done it, just drive around some evening and feast on the sights.

Without a doubt you are busy getting ready for Christmas, next week busy yourself getting ready for the big Masquerade ball on New Year's Eve. There's a big time in store for you with prizes awarded for various costumes. At midnight there'll be noise-makers, confetti and what-not to welcome in the new year. Ask your best girl to go now so that she will be ready. American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps is putting on the party and that is assurance enough that you will have a good time. Everybody is welcome.

ROSCOMMON MEN FOUND GUILTY

Gaylord Knight and William Emery of Roscommon were found guilty by a jury in Justice Petersen's court Wednesday where they were tried for violation of the game laws. They were charged with illegal hunting.

The jury found them guilty and the justice sentenced them to each pay a fine of $50.00 and costs, and in default of payment of such fines and costs be and remain imprisoned in the county jail for a period of thirty days. They were given five days time in which to either pay up or go to jail.
